Wednesday, 23 June 2010

Oman's Galfar Construction & Engineering Co has won a contract worth 12 million Omani rials ($31.17 million) to build a water distribution network in northwest of Oman, a tender board official said on Wednesday.

"Galfar will build reservoirs, including trenching and pipelines to connect to all houses in the area," the official told Reuters.

Galfar Engineering won contracts worth 41 million rials for infrastructure projects earlier in April, covering road projects and a hospital building.

It reported a net loss of 843,000 rials ($2.78m) in the first quarter mainly due to a project cost increase.

The company made a profit of 4.6 million rials in the first three months of last year.
